

Determining the right ring size

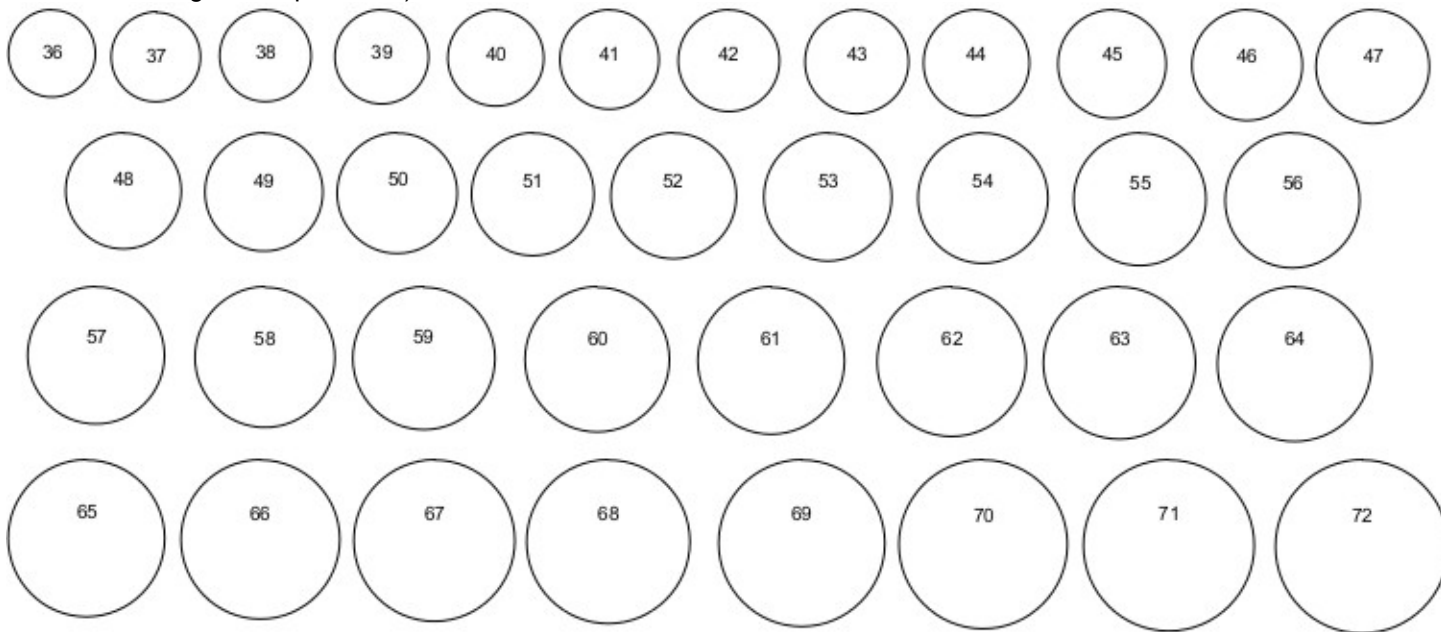

Ring sizer

- Print and cut out our paper ring sizer. In the wider part of the sizer, cut along the indicated line to make a slit for the opposite (pointed) end of the paper sizer.
- Wrap the paper around the finger (numbers face up), slip the pointed end through the slit and pull paper to a snug fit.
- The paper should not be too loose on your finger.
- The number in the slit refers to your ring size.
- For accuracy, have someone help you measure.
- If the sizer says the size we do not offer, e.g. 50, you can go for size 49 or 51, it will not matter.

Circular sizing chart

If you wish to buy a ring as a surprise gift, it is necessary to use a circular sizing chart and lay the ring over the size circles of the chart. Do so until you see the edge of the ring match the circle on the chart (careful, the circle should match the inside of the ring for the perfect fit).

Ring size chart (the measurement is in mm/inches)

You can find your ring size also by measuring the inside diameter of the ring or the inside of the ring traced on a piece of paper. Use the below chart to find the size of the ring by the measured value. For accuracy, use a slide rule.

size	inside diameter mm/''	size	inside diameter mm/''	size	inside diameter mm/''	size	inside diameter mm/''
37	11,8/0.46''	46	14,6/0.57''	55	17,5/0.69''	64	20,4/0.80''
